

GALORATH ENGINEERING SERVICES

Engineering Services

Know and optimize costs with cost estimating and analysis services for programs, projects and products, from components to integrated systems.

Our People

- Experienced workforce of engineers and material science experts
- Average experience of over 25 years in commercial, military, and international projects

Services staff engineers are industry experts in:

- Industrial, Aerospace and Space Products
- Machining
- High Performance Composites
- Requirements Analysis
- Lifecycle Costing
- Cost analysis of components to full systems

Our Services:

- Set consistent standards for accurate cost analysis
- Validate customer internal cost estimates
- Provide design trade solutions and real time cost comparisons
- Leverage existing or create solid models improving cost accuracy
- Utilize data to understand should-cost vs. will-cost estimates
- Improve cost negotiations with suppliers
- Support change orders, make/buy decisions, and technical evaluations
- Improve customer proposal success while reducing internal cost

Flexible and Cost Effective

- Customer proposal support
- Black hat reviews, red team reviews, technical and cost volume support
- Business development and strategy support
- Subcontract and Supplier should-cost estimates
- Improved customer negotiation position

SEER® Estimating Software

Galorath's SEER® suite of predictive analytics products sets the gold standard for estimating and analysis, with over 35 years of developing data-driven parametric cost models to support a variety of industries and government organizations worldwide.